Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 10 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers easing this evening, leaving a dry night for most.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any lingering showers will fade through the evening, leaving largely dry conditions overnight, with just the odd shower possible in southernmost areas towards dawn. Plenty of clear spells overnight, before becoming cloudy again in the south by morning. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Sunday:
Another day with scattered showers throughout, and some sunny spells where breaks in the cloud allow. Some of these showers could be heavy and possibly thundery. Cloud thickening later. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Further scattered showers on Monday, these heavy at times, with risk of thunder and hail. Similar conditions on Tuesday, though sunnier with less frequent showers. Dry and fine on Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.